

Asgmt

1. Explain issues that normally make decision-making difficult in an organization
2. Explain the following types of Information Systems.
 - a. Knowledge work systems
 - b. Executive Support Systems
 - c. Decision Support Systems
3. Discuss why Information security and control is necessary for an organization.
4. What are the recurring problems system Developers always face in the systems development life cycle?
5. Give the limitations of SDLC.
6. a) What is competitive advantage?
 - b. How can a company gain a competitive advantage?
7. What is meant by the term system structured methodology.
8. As an I.T Manager, what assumptions would you make when developing a new system?
9. MMU is planning to start a new systems development, which shall follow a complete system cycle, and you are recruited as a systems investigator, what would you exactly do?
10. Define Prototyping and give the advantages and disadvantages of prototyping
11. Describe how valuable information is used in different levels of decision-making.
12. What are the major issues raised by information systems that call for proper management of information systems?

Deadline 23/10/2023